Professor Joseph Herriges, was named a 2013 Fellow of the Association of Environmental and Resource Economists (AERE). It was announced at the 5th World Congress of Environmental and Resource Economists held in Istanbul June 28-July 2, 2014.

In 2005, the AERE Fellows program was instituted to recognize outstanding contributions to the advancement of the profession of environmental and resource economics. Six Fellows were chosen in each of the first three years, and up to three Fellows may be inducted each year thereafter.